Yachting News.

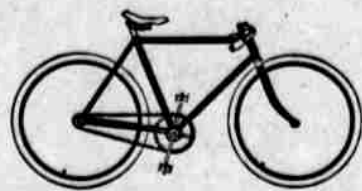

Many yacht enthusiasts would like to see the Helene in the race to Lahaina Monday. She made faster time than the first class yachts and won the second class yacht race. In a race to Lahaina, there is no doubt that the Helene would hold her own in good shape. It is understood that there is no objection on the part of the owners of the Gladys or La Palma.

Now Have Water.

The people up on the slopes of Punchbowl are happy again today. The men of the Water Works did such good work yesterday that by evening the Punchbowl slopes people had all the water they wanted.

A Narrow Escape.

Harold, the 9 years old son of Frank Godfrey, had a narrow escape from death or maiming yesterday evening. The lad had climbed up a coconut tree and grasping a dried branch, to lift himself further up, the branch gave away and the lad fell to the ground a distance of forty-eight feet. A banana tree luckily intervened to break the fall, although the impact knocked the boy unconscious. Dr. C. L. Garvin, who was passing, restored the lad to his senses and expressed wonder at the almost miraculous escape from serious injury in a fall from such a height. Aside from being stunned the lad sustained only a few scratches and, a, not serious, bruise.

Omaha World-Herald, July 19, 1899:

"Hawaiian music partakes of the nature of the clime of its composers. Its strains form a lulling, soothing melody, dreamy, with a lingering sense of sadness, markedly swaying in motion like the roll of a summer sea; the beauty of tone is profoundly indicative to a sensuousness of feeling characteristic of the southern zones, while its composition is even, and contains nothing to antagonize the harmony required by the classical ear."
